GEORGE W. COLBY,
JOSEPH CRAM,
PETER JONES,

Selectmen of Goffstown.

To the taxpayers of Goffstown :

We have had our attention called several times to the ownership of the commons in the west village, and we have procured copies of deeds and investigated the titles, and are satisfied they belong to the public.

The heirs of the late Dr. Carr have claimed ownership of the one south of the river. The deeds show that the north line of the Carr land is a highway, and that at the time the deeds were given, and long after, a road was open between the Carr place and the place now occupied by Hon. D. A. Taggart, and there can be no doubt this road was the one referred to in the Carr deed, and the heirs have no claim or shadow of claim by virtue of their deed to any land north of said road.

Our investigation of the north common shows that when the heirs of Peter Pattee divided his estate, Richard Pattee, David Pattee, and Philo Pattee joined in a deed to Lemuel N. Pattee of the premises now known as K. of P. Hall, by which deed said Lemuel N. was deeded about sixteen feet east of the store, with this limitation: said Lemuel N., his heirs and assigns, not to build or erect any building east of his store, except a piazza or portico not exceeding eight feet wide, and no fence or building of any description between the above-named building and the highway leading from Mast road to Philip F. Pattee's, that being dedicated for a common forever, and the free passage over the same is not to be obstructed. And Lemuel N. Pattee in his deed to Philo and others inserted a like proviso, that no fence should be built between the store and said road south of this line, running west from the elm tree now standing near the house occupied by Mrs. Philo Pattee, "This piece last described being dedicated for a common forever."

Both of these commons have been used by the town as public from time immemorial, and the people have a right to them by prescription, and the heirs of Philo Pattee, the only persons claiming any right to the north common, are precluded by the deed of Philo himself from any right or ownership in it, as effectually as are the heirs of A. F. Carr to any claim to the south common.

GEORGE W. COLBY,
JOSEPH CRAM,
PETER JONES,

Selectmen of Goffstown

With this sum 263 volumes have been purchased. There have been donations in money of $83.91, with which have been purchased 90 volumes. Total number purchased, 353. The balance, 771, have been the gifts of friends, mostly of Miss Lucy S. Rogers. It was through her thoughtful liberality that this library originated, and we feel the loss of a friend as we record her death at London, Eng., January 21, 1892.

Our thanks are due to the many friends who have remembered us during the year, especially to Mr. A. Wallace, of Washington, D. C., for the many valuable books received from him.

A hanging lamp has been procured for the library room, and additional shelves have been put in.

The number of patrons increases, and the interest in the library is unabated. An entertainment given under the supervision of Mr. G. M. Story, for its benefit, netted over $70, and is one of the many indications of the proper appreciation of its value.

The schoolhouse has been supplied with water from the village water-works for both heating and drinking purposes, and it is found to be a great convenience. No other improvement upon the building has been made. A large lot is required, and it is hoped this demand may be met during the coming year, by the purchase of a strip adjoining the present lot on the east. A new fence must also be built around the whole lot.

We have had a faithful corps of teachers. They have worked earnestly and intelligently, and have won for themselves the love of the scholars and the esteem of the parents. Their many terms of service have given to the school its high standard, and we regret the necessity that leads Miss McLané to resign with the close of the winter term. She carries with her the satisfaction of knowing that her services have been highly appreciated; that her last term has been her best; and we shall deem the school fortunate if her successor shall prove equally successful.

Good progress has been made in all the rooms in the studies pursued. Order has prevailed, and the visitations to the school have been made pleasant by the zeal manifested in the studies.

Attention has now been given to drawing for one year, and it has met our expectations. We believe its introduction in the schools, if only as an alternate exercise with penmanship, detracts nothing from that study, and adds very much to the interest and improvement of the scholars.

We see also encouraging results from the teaching of vocal music. Mrs. McQuesten gives one lesson a week of one half hour each in each of the lower grades. This short service is producing visible results. The scholars who cannot sing are fast disappearing, and it is surprising how readily the rules of music are mastered. We hope that as the scholars pass from Mrs. McQuesten's charge to the high school, they will carry with them such a love for singing as shall prompt them to still higher attainments.

A careful inspection of text-books has been made, and they are reported in as good condition as their continued use for two years would warrant. Some of those used in the lower rooms are soiled and worn, and a new supply will be needed. We hope to be able early in the year to make a requisition for books and supplies for the year, and not trouble you with such frequent calls. We appreciate your kindness, and thank you for the readiness with which our wants have been supplied.

Mr. Selwin Martin has been the sub-committee having in charge the supply of books and materials.

Mr. E. A. Blaisdell has been agent to procure fuel and take charge of the school building.

Dr. Frank Blaisdell and Mr. Samuel Upton have had the special care and oversight of the schools. They have made 74 visits to the schools, of which Dr. Blaisdell made 24, and Mr. Upton 50. No other member of the board has been in any of the schools. There have been many visits by parents at the ordinary services of the school, and large numbers have been present at the closing exercises.

The following are the books on hand received from the town: Singing books, 19; Barnes' United States History, 2; High School Arithmetic, 18; Grammar School Arithmetic, 71; Algebra, 16; How to Live, 63; Child's Book of Health, 13; Botany, 17; Intermediate School Geography, 56; First Reader, 26; Third Reader, 45; Fifth Reader, 18; How to Speak and Write Well, 4; Bookkeeping, 8; Language Lessons, 43; Beginner's Latin Book, 12; Astronomy, 12; Colburn's Arithmetic,

REPORT

SCHOOL BOARD OF THE DISTRICT OF THE TOWN OF GOFFSTOWN.

The school board of the town of Goffstown beg leave to submit their annual report as follows. We believe that notwithstanding the very unusual prevalence of sickness in the winter terms, our schools have made a marked degree of improvement during the past year, and much credit is due to those who have contributed in however small a measure to such satisfactory results. We are very well aware that the duties of all good citizens as parents or friends of our school children, and of the advantages to be derived from our common school system, have been so long and continuously urged upon your attention, that the subject seems to be worn almost threadbare, yet we feel as if we were failing in our duty if we do not continue to call to your serious attention the growing demands of educating our youth so that they may be fully prepared to perform intelligently any duty which they may be called upon to perform. The object of common school education is ordinarily supposed to be simply the acquisition of a knowledge of reading, writing, arithmetic, grammar, etc. These are the simple elements which most children acquire in various degrees of fullness and accuracy. They are generally considered sufficient to fit men and women for the common duties of life. They enable the possessor to transact the usual business of the world, and every one should be required to understand these branches thoroughly before leaving the school room to enter upon the more active and mature duties of a business life.

Beyond the mere knowledge of facts and principles that is acquired in the school room, there are other advantages equally important that grow out of the process of study and acquisition. The training and discipline of the school quicken and energize the whole mental nature, and give it a facility of applying itself and its varied faculties to many purposes. The new energy given to the perceptive and reflective faculties by study in the schools remains as a permanent possession after the period of study shall have ceased, even though the lessons themselves may have been long forgotten. The new methods of thought in the analyzation of language, and the successful solution of difficult and intricate problems, strengthen and quicken the reasoning powers and enable the possessor to see a new beauty and excellence in all the beautiful creations of nature and art which may meet his vision. Faithfully trained, the mental eyes are opened, and the boy or girl becomes an observer and sees new beauties and objects of intense interest in his daily walks, which will not be discovered by the uneducated, who will plod on in ignorance of the beautiful and wonderful creation around him. Two persons, one educated the other untaught, may travel along the same road or over the same field. The same objects or events may be presented to their eyes, but how very different the impressions. The educated mind sees a beauty in each tiny blade of grass, each budding leaf, or early opening flower of spring. The fleecy clouds or azure blue above him remind him that he has been taught that above, beneath, and all around him are other countless worlds, each filling its allotted space in the great whole, and that our earth that seems so large to us is but the tiniest speck in the immensity of the Universe. The little noisy brooks, rushing so swiftly and merrily along, are but fulfilling their destiny. They will soon unite with other streams and their combined energies contribute to the interests of manufactures and commerce. In short, the educated eye sees a beauty and interest in every object which claims its attention. In this beauty of nature and art the uneducated eye has but little interest. If we wish to have our children acquire these habits of observation and study, and to encourage them to seek for the very fundamental principles, we should give them such opportunities as will develop such faculties. First of all we should provide the best instructors that we can with the means at our disposal. If we were about to build some costly building we should consult the architect. Having a satisfactory plan we would very naturally secure the services of a skillful and intelligent builder to work out the beautiful design. So in every calling or profession, the ones who thoroughly understand their business are the ones who are bound to succeed. If we want first-class work we must have trained minds to carry that work to perfection. We have some superior teachers with us and think it would be good policy to keep them if possible, and to do what we can to aid and encourage others to fit themselves for the same noble calling. But education alone will never make a successful teacher. To be successful, all the duties should be labors of love.

We believe a larger school fund would be a good investment, and we would recommend that the town district raise five hundred dollars additional school money. Some of our school-houses will need a small amount in repairs. The one in No. 12 should have an entry built and the school room painted, and some others need more or less of repairs.

MOUNTAIN.

First and second terms by Miss Abbie M. Woodman. Miss Woodman's labors in the schoolroom were very satisfactory. This is a pleasant little school, with scholars who make good use of their privileges. One of their number, only five years old, besides being excellent in arithmetic, reads in the Fifth Reader, and is the best in his class.

Winter term by Miss Alice M. Baker, who taught an excellent school.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE — Three terms : Ernest Pierce.

One term : Edith Pierce, Helen E. Pierce.

SHIRLEY HILL.

Spring and fall terms by Miss Helen M. Cram. Miss Cram always has a good school.

Winter term by Miss Lydia D. Shirley, who we think labored faithfully and conscientiously for the welfare of her pupils. The school appeared well at our visits, especially at the examination.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE—Two terms: Jimmie D. Shirley, John N. Regner, Cora A. Mooers, Peter Hanley.

One term: Annie O. Shirley, Wallace A. Belcher, Bert Hanley.

NO. 4, KENNEDY HILL.

Summer and fall terms, Miss Ethel L. Kimball, teacher; and winter term, Miss Lura H. Parker. These were all good and profitable terms. The scholars are all smart and good, and the progress made was very satisfactory. A visit to such a school is very enjoyable.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE—Three terms: Ella M. Kendrick, Annie E. Kendrick, Alice Roberts.

Two terms: Lillian H. Roberts, Horace Roberts.

One term: George E. Roberts, Cora E. B. Kendrick.

MAST ROAD.

The first and second terms were taught by Miss Georgia E. Cram. Miss Cram is an earnest teacher, and the scholars made good progress in their studies.

The Winter term was taught by Miss Alice Moore. This was Miss Moore's first term at teaching, and she made a very good beginning for a teacher. The exercises at the close of the term were very good.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE—Three terms: Bertha A. Gould.

Two terms: Esther C. Marston, Arthur B. Cranshaw, Willie W. Plumer.

One term: Jennie M. Hammond, Adelbert A. Gould, George R. Cranshaw, Bert G. Tirrell, Maurice A. Wheeler, Winnie M. Simpson.

NO. 7, EAST.

The summer term was commenced by Miss Gertie M. Shepard. This was her first experience as a teacher, and we honestly think that she began with the determination of doing her duty, but a strong prejudice on the part of some of the scholars proved too difficult a task for her to overcome. After a four weeks' trial she wisely, as we think, closed her labors. The remainder of the summer term and fall and winter were taught by Miss Clara A. Greer. Miss Greer has taught this school most of the time for a number of years, and has always been successful. Her methods of teaching are very critical and thorough, and winning the confidence and respect of the pupils, the terms are correspondingly profitable. It was unfortunate that she was taken sick at the end of four weeks, and was unable to resume her work.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE — Two terms : Wesley S. Merrill, Flora A. Kimball.

One term : Norris Wheeler, Herbert Dow, Gracie McDuffie, Mertie B. Merrill, Ida M. Merrill.

NO. 8, TEBBETTS HILL.

Summer and fall terms, Miss Alice M. Baker, teacher. We think this was a profitable school under her care, besides being very pleasant for both teacher and scholars.

The winter term was taught by Miss Helen M. Barnard. Miss Barnard is one of our very best teachers. Her pleasing manner in and out of the schoolroom gains the good will and respect of parents and scholars and retains them. The term was, of course, an assured success.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE — Three terms : Charles A. Little.

One term : Hermie M. Whipple, Elmer H. Cleaveland.

CENTER, GRAMMAR.

First term by Miss Emma E. Griffin, an excellent scholar and faithful teacher. There seemed to be no reason why those under her instruction could not have learned had they so desired.

Fall term by Miss Grace L. Ford. Miss Ford is finely qualified and critical in her methods of teaching, and the school showed a good degree of improvement during her stay.

Winter term by Miss Angeline Campbell. Miss Campbell, besides being thoroughly fitted for her work, has a natural aptitude for teaching, and appears to possess the faculty of winning the friendship of her pupils.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE — Three terms : Harrie S. Greer.

One term : Sadie E. Allen, Mabel Cunningham, Annie R. Flanders, Gertrude A. George, Lucie H. Greer, Lora E. Hopkins, Sadie V. Sandford, Freddie E. George, Adams L. Greer, Arthur A. Merrill.

CENTER PRIMARY.

Three terms by Miss Carrie A. Tirrell. Miss Tirrell is so well and favorably known as a teacher that praise in her case would be superfluous. It is enough to say that she did precisely the same this term as she has other terms. Miss Hattie M. Richards kindly took charge of this room three days during the absence of the regular teacher.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE — Three terms : Bertha J. Harris, Ina E. Merrill.

Two terms : Mabel A. Annis, Anna R. Copp, Etta B. Copp, Harry L. Kidder, Jemima J. Merrill, Willie L. Straw.

One term : Alphonso W. Foster, Ethel E. Greer, Royden Humphreys, Edith Mackey, Alfred A. Merrill, Ida B. Merrill, Andrew W. Merrill, Oscar E. Merrill, Willie H. Merrill, Edith P. Sweetzer.

PATTEE HILL.

Miss Georgia L. Barnard taught the three terms. Miss Barnard is an experienced teacher, and maintained her former record as an excellent teacher, the school giving good results.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE — Three terms : Herbert E. Martin.

Two terms : Henry A. Woodman, Ina L. Pattee, Fred Story, Myra Whipple.

One term : Bertie A. Whipple, Georgia Merrill, Leigh F. Woodman, Mary E. Hazen, Lena M. Davis.

PARKER'S.

The spring term was taught by Miss Annie M. Shedd. Owing to sickness in the teacher's family, the school was closed at the end of the fifth week. Miss Shedd is a good teacher, and the school made a good commencement for a profitable term.

The fall term was taught by Miss Lura H. Parker. This was Miss Parker's first school. Her government was not so good as we wished, but this is a hard school for a beginner. We think with a smaller school and a little more push Miss Parker might do well.

The winter term was taught by Miss Helen M. Cram. Miss Cram is one of our faithful teachers, earnest in her calling, and your committee is satisfied that she earns her reward. The school made good progress in all their studies, and the examination at the close showed good work by the teacher and scholars.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE — Two terms : Harry C. Colter, Minnie M. Moore.

One term : Frank E. Moore, Fred C. Goodwin, Gertie M. Osgood.

NO. 12.

All three terms, Miss Josie E. Paige teacher. This seems to be a very nice school, although small in numbers. We enjoyed our visits very much, and were glad to meet the friends there at the several examinations, which were good ones and proved to us that teacher and pupils had well done their duty.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE — Three terms : Flora A. Paige, Arthur H. Hammond.

Two terms : Frank B. Davis, Florence E. Paige, Elsie M. Moore, Jennie M. Paige, Lottie W. Manning.

One term : Bert D. Paige.
